DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The term "so great" in claim 2 is a relative term which renders the claim indefinite. The term "so great" is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention. The bevel of the surface is rendered indefinite.

Regarding claim 1, the phrase "or the like" renders the claim(s) indefinite because the claim(s) include(s) elements not actually disclosed (those encompassed by "or the like"), thereby rendering the scope of the claim(s) unascertainable. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

Claims 1-3 contain informalities that would require rewriting the claims using proper claim language. The examiner request applicant's assistance in rewriting the claims in a format that is clear of any 35 USC 112 issues.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Art Unit: 1764

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Notman (US 4,411,877) in view of Bowman (US 4,203,686).

With respect to claims 1-3, Notman teaches an apparatus (fig.1) for the provision of a block flange of a manhole aperture (33A) for reactor having a wall flange fixed in the reactor wall (as illustrated). Notman fails to show manhole details with respect to the flange surface pointing inward and downward in the direction of gravity and is of a beveled design. Bowman teaches a manhole apparatus which provides a liquid tight assembly and wherein its cover maybe easily positioned on or removed from the manhole (col. 1, lines 43-47), Bowman's manhole has a flange surface pointing inward and downward in the direction of gravity and is of a beveled design in order to provide a manhole that is highly effective in operation (col. 1, lines 52-55).

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to replace the manhole structure of Notman with the manhole of Bowman in order to provide a manhole that is highly effective in operation.

Double Patenting

A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claims 1-3 are provisionally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 1-3 of copending Application No. 10/976,287. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claims 1-3 are directed to the same invention as that of claims 1-3 of commonly assigned 10/976,287. The issue of priority under 35 U.S.C. 102(g) and possibly 35 U.S.C. 102(f) of this single invention must be resolved.

Since the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office normally will not institute an interference between applications or a patent and an application of common ownership (see MPEP Chapter 2300), the assignee is required to state which entity is the prior inventor of the conflicting subject matter. A terminal disclaimer has no effect in this situation since the basis for refusing more than one patent is priority of invention under 35 U.S.C. 102(f) or (g) and not an extension of monopoly.

Failure to comply with this requirement will result in a holding of abandonment of this application.
